People who need people

Dedication

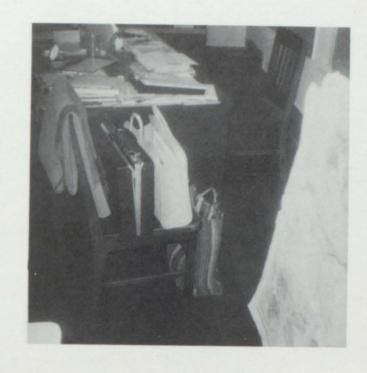

Miss Evelyn Cameron

The senior class of Prospect Hill Country Day School has profound appreciation for one of its instructors who not only has been a very versatile and informed educator, but also a true friend to each of us. By possessing an understanding and open mind, and refraining from criticism, she has always been willing to accept our ideas with respect, interest, and receptivity. She has treated us as mature individuals and has given us a sense of pride in ourselves and in our personal expression. Through her guidance we have been given the opportunity to experience a liberal and productive education.

With enriched minds, grateful hearts and a readiness to establish a place for ourselves in this society, we, the class of 1970, sincerely dedicate our yearbook to Miss Evelyn Cameron.

In Appreciation

The functioning of a good school incorporates many facets of work which are not always credited. This year the class of 1970 wishes to give recognition to the many dedicated people working on the staff of our school.

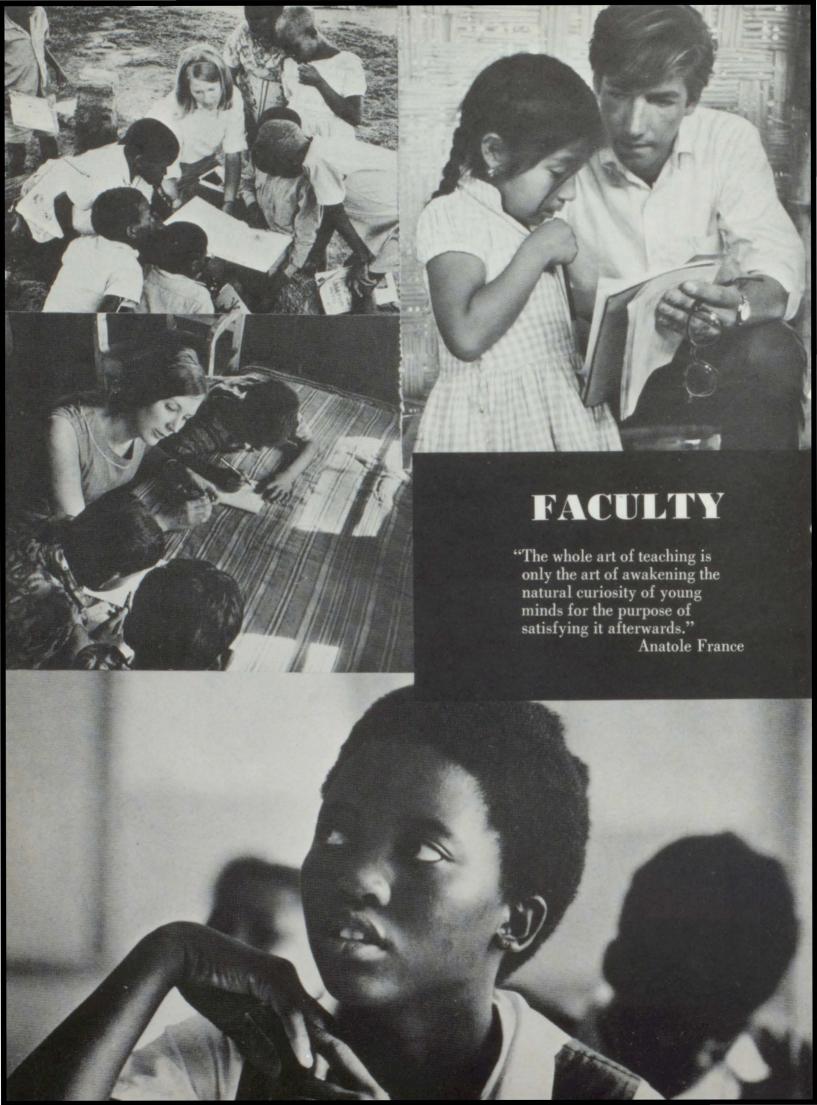

Mrs. Edward P. Hooper Headmistress

In order to attract young people, any school first of all will have to look at the general educational opportunity environment, and see that its students take full advantage of it. It will have to analyze what it alone can provide in their training and educational experience, and then provide it. It will have to motivate young persons through example, by being a humane institution and by creating for young persons the beginning of a vocation which they will become enamored and to which they will wish to devote themselves.

Thus, it is clear that there are many different goals for people, and that many goals are appropriate to each institution in line with its facilities, its resources, its personnel and their knowledge and dedication, and especially its sensitivity to the needs of its community.

To the Class of 1970, no longer children but young people, go my best wishes for the fulfillment of their desires.

School Informals

"I'm so tired, I haven't slept a wink."

All right kiddies, put on your costumes now.

And now we present the Andrew Sisters.

A Family Affair

But this is a Senior privilage!

Senior Fall Dance

This year the seniors sponsored a fall invitational dance. Incorporating the effort of our entire school, the success was phenomenal. Besides dancing and listening to music such as the Temptations all the way to Blind Faith, a feast of delicacies was provided by the seniors and their families. For the guests' further enjoyment, a W. C. Fields film, was presented. This dance proved to be a hopeful sign of more to come.

Music Club

The music club has been established this year at Prospect Hill and is under the direction of Miss Duffy and Mrs. Cameron. Members are free to bring in records of their choice for listening enjoyment. There is a wide variety of music collections, thus, providing a pleasant diversion for all participants.

The Sewing Club

The sewing club is a meaningful hobby club for learning the simple and practical techniques of sewing.

The members are presently sewing Simplicity jumpers for the spring. The school's sewing machines are used and the dining room tables are used as cutting boards. The girls hope to fashion their new stylish clothes in the spring!

Drama Club

The Drama Club provides its participants with an opportunity to express themselves artistically through the various roles they play. This year, under the able direction of Miss Davis and Mrs. Fernandez, a Spanish Christmas play was produced which added to the gaity of the holiday season. As an extra-curricular activity, the Drama Club is a greatly appreciated source of entertainment for other members of Prospect Hill.

The Crafts Club

The Crafts Club, this year was under the direction of Mrs. Collins. Our activities ranged from the making of favors for Veterans Hospital to textile painting on material. As a whole, the crafts club has had a very successful year.

Slimnastics

The Slimnastics Club, under the direction of Mrs. Seabrook and Mrs. Topoleski, offers modern dancing and gymnastics to those students who wish to limber up with vigorous exercises. All sessions are accompanied by music that varies with the particular exercise. Because of the informality of the teacher-student relationship and the rigidity of the exercises, the Slimnastics Club is a profitable as well as pleasant activity.

Ah, that this flesh would melt . . .

Chess Club

The chess club, formed this year under the able direction of Miss Cameron has stimulated the interests of many students. Every other week the avid chess players meet to either learn or improve their skill in the complex, yet exciting game.

The Knitting Club

The Knitting Club was under the direction of Mrs. Alt this year. The activities ranged from the knitting of scarfs to the knitting of slippers and vests which were of great support to the School Fair. As a whole, the Knitting Club has had a very successful year.

The Discussion Club

Mrs. Topoleski is the able supervisor of the Discussion Club. The girls read up on political news and bring the articles to debate them freely among themselves. They are planning on taking a poll based on the opinions of the student body and faculty. They also hope to bring up a debate in assembly and have discussion open to the floor. The Discussion Club provides a good opportunity in which the students can express their opinions freely and concisely.

The Glee Club

First row: Karen Cotton, Anne Del Tufo, Eva Merk, Linda Cannella, Barbara Stefinelli. Second row: Lisa Rachels, Christine Quatrone, Brenda Berberian, Virginia Chamblin. Third row: Carla Sarno, Victoria Leonardis, Cheryle Pearson, Angela White, Janet Cameron. Fourth row: Ann Payne, Betty Lou Sina, Linda Williams, Eileen Berg, Donna Bersch, Shawn Wanzer, Alicine Capal, Jane Lonsinger, Margaret Myles, Adrian Wheeler, Susan Hamblin.

The Glee Club of Prospect Hill, under the supervision of Miss Junkin, has achieved a true feeling for music. The Glee Club shares its love for music with others by performing various concerts throughout the year. This year, the members of the Glee Club sang at the Baptist Home for the Aged as well as at the Third Presbyterian Church where their annual Christmas concert is held. This year's officers were Janet Cameron, President and Margaret Myles, Secretary.

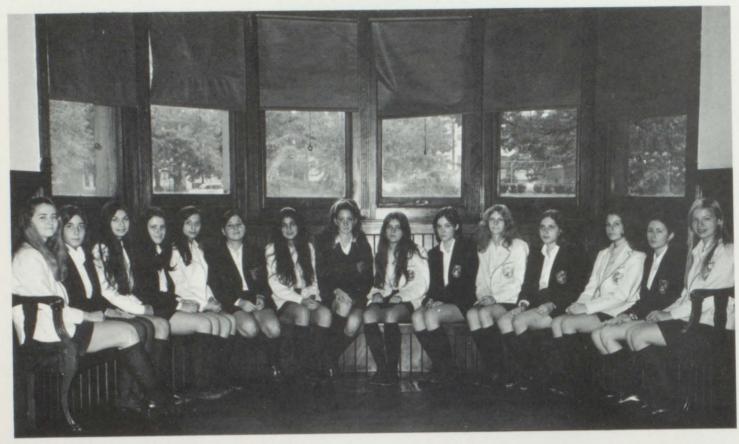

Recreation Club

The Recreation Club makes use of the school's many facilities including the ping-pong and pool tables. Baseball, volleyball or tennis with Mrs. Roth is always an experience. Games of scrabble tantalize the less physically minded.

The Fair

This year the School Fair transformed Prospect Hill into a memorable visit to Fairyland. Besides the traditional tables such as the Plain and Fancy, Cake and White Elephant Tables, children were turned into brides and soldiers by the hand of our talented make-up artists. The atmosphere of joviality and togetherness which prevailed throughout the Fair and its preparations succeeded in producing an unforgettable experience for all.

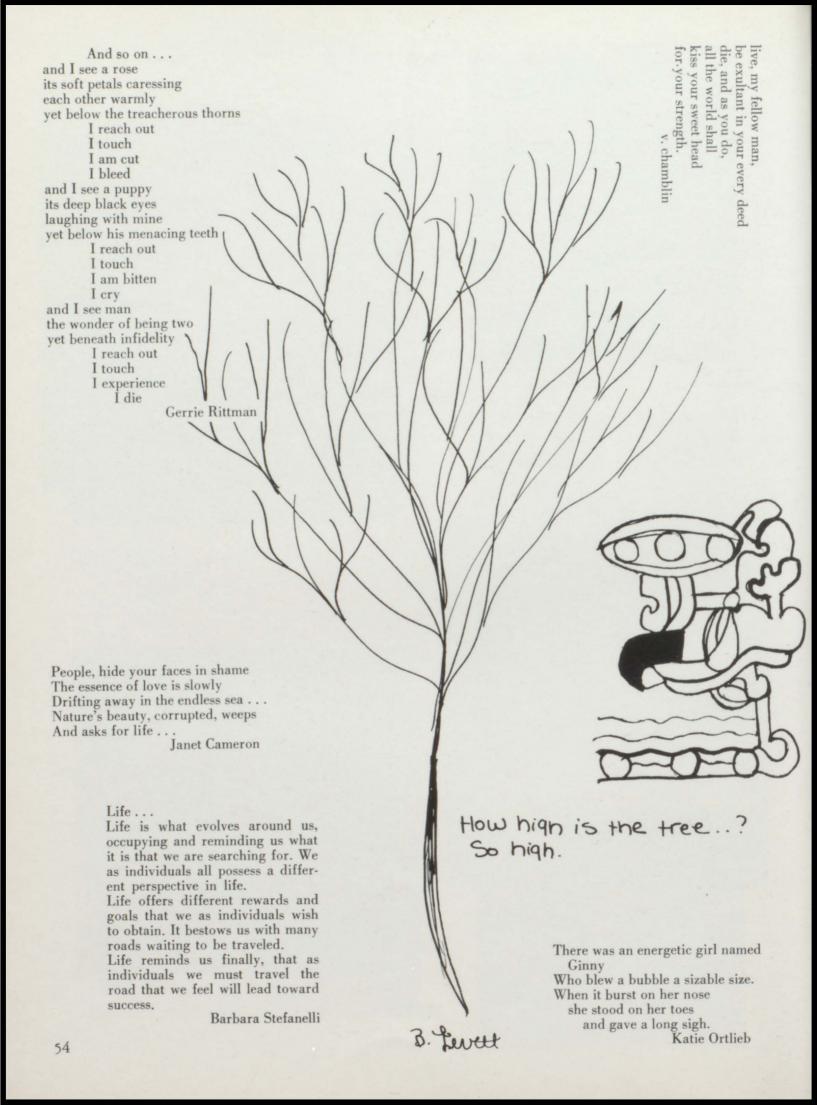

An overturned stone brings into the light more than just dirt. . Shil risht in their life. J. Miller 55

A hollow among the rest. flowers all sweet and blooming grass moist with dew as i sit on the window breathing long breaths of virgin, reincarnated life no longer polluted with ugliness or doubt my eyes have opened, have observed at last i am one with my sphere i hear your gentle heartbeat, Nature as you lie by my side you have awakened, amazed, inebriated my very being profound obscurity is now alien it lies in the distance, unattended frogs in the stream, so lucid and true birds in the sky, so vast and free me on my perch, with emancipated smile gazing at your creation all is one - sky, water, air, and soul together we shall live and die fine, oh so very fine.

Can any of them refuse?

Out of the darkness, love rises with a suddent burst of beauty and magnitude.

Tremble, but open your eyes -Don't hesitate - reach out and give yourself completely. Don't be afraid - touch, see, smell the wonders of life. Warmth fills your body - you cannot hold love, just make it, live and be happy!
